

I would keep the Do Not Call Law as is. Companies should not be able to call your personal phone number without your permission.